A Fresh Look at Conspiracy Theory

For Immediate Release:

(WASHINGTON, D.C.) In an explosive new book, a former counsel to the U.S. Senate explains how America lost control of its foreign policy to pro-Israeli elites and extremists.

In an account covering presidencies from Woodrow Wilson to George W. Bush, the author chronicles the influence wielded by pro-Israeli agents operating inside administrations over the past century regardless of party.

Harry Truman, a political product of organized crime from the 1920s, recognized Israel in 1948 over the strenuous objections of Secretary of State George Marshall and the entire U.S. foreign policy and intelligence establishment. Like Bush, Truman was a Zionist Christian predisposed to favor the agenda of the Zionist state. Like Truman, Bush was advised by a cadre of pro-Israeli advisers who favored Tel Aviv's expansionist goals.

With this game-changing analysis, Guilt By Association shows how the U.S. became a casualty of those skilled at waging war by way of deception. In the Information Age, war is waged by what Defense Secretary Robert Gates calls "the people in between."

Between the facts and a misinformed public, asserts author Jeff Gates, are those such as CNN announcer Wolf Blitzer and New York Times reporter Judith Miller who displaced the real facts about Iraqi WMD with what people could be deceived to believe.

The scope, scale and duration of this duplicity, Gates documents, exerted virtual control over serial presidencies. Even more disturbing, Guilt details how pro-Israeli candidates are screened, prepped, positioned and funded for public office by a transnational network aligned around shared goals. What Guilt documents is less an overt conspiracy than non-transparent ideological alignment around values inconsistent with democracy's commitment to transparency and informed choice.

This provocative account documents how the 2008 elections offer only the latest presidential field in which both candidates are the product of pro-Israeli networks whose goals conflict with America's interests.
