Iraqi Vets the Victim of Sham Election

For Immediate Release:

(WASHINGTON, D.C.) Those who bore the brunt of the violence in Iraq and Afghanistan are offered a deceptive choice in the 2008 presidential election charges the author of Guilt By Association—How Deception and Self-Deceit Took America to War.

An explosive new release by a Washington insider confirms that pro-Israelis were the dominant operatives in “fixing” the intelligence that took the U.S. military to war in the Middle East. Yet neither presidential candidate has proposed a change in U.S.-Israeli relations.

Even as the death toll approaches 4,500 and the ranks of those grievously wounded reaches tens of thousands, the author notes that neither candidate of change offers to alter U.S. policy toward Israel. Though Israeli agents were caught spying on the U.S., Guilt By Association documents why neither party dares even hint at the need for change.

Author Jeff Gates documents how America’s entangled relationship with the Zionist state discredited the U.S. worldwide. A former convoy commander in Vietnam, Gates asks why those with boots on the ground in Iraq and Afghanistan are denied a real choice in this election.

In a searing indictment challenging the benefits to the U.S. of its entangled alliance with the Zionist state, Gates details how Israeli operatives commit treason in plain sight yet with impunity even while Americans are dying abroad for Tel Aviv’s expansionist agenda.

The author points out that Jimmy Carter, who correctly portrayed Israel an Apartheid state, was shunned at the Democratic convention. Meanwhile Sarah Palin, Republican vice-presidential candidate, proclaimed “I love Israel” in a nationally televised debate with Democrat Joe Biden who, Gates notes, conceded in a televised interview, “I am a Zionist.” For veterans of these latest wars, Guilt By Association asks, “Where’s the choice in this election?”
